- If you are planning to have roommates or room alone, I would suggest coordinating and booking as soon as possible. While these and other choices are available, this time of year can draw a lot of tourists. It is the time the aspen trees begin to turn and present the beauty of their autumn, sometimes referred to as Colorado's gold rush. There is also an annual art festival in Glenwood Springs this particular weekend that does draw in a lot of folks from out of the area. Again, please give consideration to staying in Carbondale.
